MODERN HOME PLANS

For only $5.00 you can order a complete study plan of any home in this book. Contained in each set of plans are floor plans, foundation or basement plans, all exterior elevations, heating layout, wiring, cabinet details, door and window schedules, and all other details necessary for your cost estimates and loan appraisals. Each plan is designed to take advantage of stock materials and to eliminate unnecessary waste and time, and can be adapted by your architect or designer to fit your own personal requirements such as heating, windows, exterior and interior finishes, built-ins, and can be enlarged or reduced to fit your lot and budget.

These plans are designed to meet basic FHA-VA requirements, but you will probably find that local codes and practices will require slight changes, so the advice of a person familiar with home building in your community is a necessity. Any lumber dealer or reputable home builder will be a source of much help, and can save you many hours in your advance planning stages.

Although any type of heat may be used, the homes in this book are specifically designed for the use of electric radiant ceiling heat, with complete layout included in each set of plans. This type of heat has proven for many years to be the outstanding method of heating modern homes in various localities, and is rapidly expanding throughout the country. Your local power board or electric utilities company will be glad to discuss with you the costs of installation and operation of clean, silent, economical electric heat in any of these homes.

Select your design right now and send only $5.00 (cash, check or money order) for each set of blue-line prints you may desire. Plans will be in the mail the same day your order is received. Additional sets are also $5.00 each. Some of these plans are available in either brick or frame construction, and many other plans and variations are also available. Let us know what your requirements are.
